

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

CARRYING OUT THE SURVEY

- The survey has been commissioned by Finnish Minerals Group
- The survey has been carried out as phone interviews as part of the weekly Telebus consumers survey and as separate interviews.
- The target group of the survey (Telebus) representing the entire population was Finnish consumers aged 15–79, excluding Åland Islands. The sample was made up of random sampling from Bisnode’s register (People service).
- The interviews were carried out in a centralized way during 28 January – 12 February, 2019 from Taloustutkimus’ supervised phone interview center in Helsinki.
- In addition, interviews were conducted among corporate and political decision-makers as well as journalists and general public in the Kainuu region. The target group for the separate surveys included
 - Finns in the Kainuu region aged 15–79
 - Journalists: news and financial media, tabloids, magazines, regionals
 - Political decision-makers: MPs, employees representing parliamentary group offices, aides to MPs, counsellors to committees, leading officers and political management of ministries, political state secretaries and Special Advisers, staff of Party offices, chairs and employees of Parties’ youth and student organizations.
 - The managers and presidents of large companies (revenue over EUR 20 million) from the following industries: chemical industry, metal industry, forest industry, energy and mining.
- The samples from separate surveys were formed with random sampling from Bisnode’s register, registers used by Taloustutkimus and contact information available online.
- A total of 1,008 people answered the Telebus survey, and 200 people took part in the additional interviews conducted in the Kainuu region. The sample of the survey was weighted to represent the target group.
- A total of 208 political decision-makers, 201 corporate decision-makers and 200 journalists were interviewed. The results from these groups were not weighted.
